What We Do?

A Journey of Learning

The Less is More series takes students from A1 level up to (eventually) C1. At A1 level learners will be dealing with familiar topics through English, which will help them connect with the language. It also aims to help students build cultural knowledge of other 'native speaking' English language cultures. From A1 the learning journey begins taking students from functional language to understanding much more complex topics and issues. This journey is meant to resemble the language learning journey of a student: functional useful chunks and phrases, based within the security of a familiar context to understanding global issues and world topics through English as it is learnt. As such it goes from the more local to the more global.

The Less is More Ethos

The Less is More series assumes that students already have some familiarity with English language learning. The series is designed with integrated skills in mind, informed by the global standards set by the CEFR. It builds students' skills by presenting, at the early levels, useful chunks and phrases, useful vocabulary, functional
